CHAPTER 10. WESTERN-PACIFIC REGION

1000. GENERAL. The Western-Pacific Region differs from the basic regional organization as described in this chapter.

* a. The international aviation functions are assigned to the International Aviation Staff.

b. The region has a Regional Administrator Representative in Honolulu, Hawaii, and Resident Directors stationed at Guam and American Samoa.

c. The Financial and Management Resources Division performs the functions of the basic Budget Division, paragraph 242, and Management Systems Division, paragraph 245. *

d. The Assistant Chief Counsel, paragraph 234, develops and prepares the regional reply to protests and inquiries regarding the propriety of the award or administration of regional contracts which are referred to the region from OST, or Congressional sources, and follows up to ensure that any promised action is accomplished.

e. The region does not have a Manager of Administrative Systems. The Human Resource Management Division, Financial and Management Resources Division, and the Logistics Division report directly to the regional administrator.

* f. Withdrawn - CHG 4. *

g. The Accounting Division serves as the liaison contact point between the region and the Office of Inspector General (OIG) and the General Accounting Office (GAO)."
